DeWit® Twisted handfork with drop grip handle

Twisting the tines of a fork comes from centuries ago. Those days they used this technic to bring more strength in the product. Today we have the opportunities to do it again but on a better way and with stronger material that created new benefits. The tines have a tapered ship which makes the much easier to work with. It's an easy tool to dig trough your soil, to mix topsoil and dirt in your border and its a great plant removal tool too. The strong well done connection is the thoughtest connection ever.
